

Week 17&18 – Results for The Amazing 2 Week Run for a Cagey Vet

Its not very often that something remarkable happens on tour. Sure we have the occasional guy break 80 who never did before, have high handicapper shoot a massively low score or 2, or perhaps watch as someone like Pee-tah, TrooperD, or Johnny find out they might actually be able to play this game. Well these last two weeks brought something a little extra special. Those of you who have been around for a few years know that Lance, or sir Lancelot as I like to call him is one of the guys we take the piss out of at the AGM. He's generally on the short bus lists. You know no victories, few if any podiums, average at best attendance and low net, well not so much. I can't remember if Lance has ever won an event on tour. If I had time I'd go check, but what I can tell you is that now he's won 2. For 2 consecutive weeks Lance was the best player on tour, and it couldn't have happened to a nicer guy.

At MOW Lance stood alone at the top of the podium shooting a sizzling 91 net 65, and for once it was Lance getting it done by a single stroke. Pardon rookie Bruni for not wanting to pat Lance on the back too much as that one stroke he left out on the old course kept the rookie from posting his first ever tour victory. Bruni who I am sure is finally feeling like his handicap is in line shot a nice 98 net 66 to pick up a second place finish and show that he has arrived on the tour. Third place went to the usually hard luck CFD who parlayed an 87 into a net 69 to finish 3 stroked clear of the Omlet. Eddie of course loved this result as none of these guys was in the top ten. Also of note this week was the final quater final 4 ball match played at Cranbury between Dico/Dos Equis and Erway/Newman. This was a fun match to play in if you name wasn't Dos Equis who really struggled. DiCo dropped in a couple of long birdie putts on the front to give the favorites a scare but Newman's par attack and the steady play of Mr Erway were too much to bear and they earned their spot in the semi-finals by the final score of 3 and 2.

On to a new course at the Peddie school. After talking a few folks out of the nearest tree about the availability of tee times at Peddie the tour marched forward and took the new event location by storm. We had pretty decent turnout for a new venue and another interesting list of names atop the leader board. As you probably have figured out by now Lance came back and did it again. I'm sure more than a few of you muttered "you ba$tard". This time though Lance was not alone. His 92 net 68 was only enough to tie for the victory with rookie Wilks, who parlayed a huge match victory over a resurgent Faucet to shoot an 87 net 68 of his own and claim his first ever YGS event victory. We also had a tie for 3rd place as well as some poetic justice was served as Swanny after organizing this rag tag bunch into several tee times as our sponsor, managed to shoot an 80 net 70 on his home course and grab a podium of his own. Mullet was game enough to join him with his 83 net 70 earned him the 4th spot on the podium. Hard luck 5th just a single stroke back went to CFD, Tony C, and Tim-e-way. Oh and in case anyone happens to notice I'll point out that our Little Buddy brought up the rear in each of the last 2 weeks... Just sayin'.. ouch!

Unfortunately for the guys rooting to see things tighten up on top Eddie's lead is as yawning as ever (9 points) going into the Open Classic this weekend. Somebody better get him hammered on Friday night because if Eddie posts a podium on Saturday, he may just turn the race for the Green Jacket into a runaway. Go low gentlemen, go low!

For now this is the S of H and S, signing off!
