

Week 3 – Mercer Oaks East

Gentlemen of the Tour,

Week 3 is already behind us and the weather is having a great effect on results through the early season sessions. If you played Thursday or Sunday you had much better scoring conditions than the lot that got out before the storm on Saturday and it really showed on the podium. The really big show was put on by Matt D for the second week in a row as he dropped an 89 net 66 on the boys again this week. We thought that would be untouchable after the rains came Saturday but the Newminator had other ideas. Newminator shot one of his best ever tour rounds to post a 94 net 66 and share the victory this week. As a result both men find themselves in tie for 3rd in the OOM standings with 7 points, just 3 behind leader XLP.

ROunding out the podium was another tie for 3rd place. Eddie, in his second trip to the podium of this young season did it in proper fashion this time firing an 84 net 67 on a gorgeous Thursday afternoon. In doing so Eddie also took a 3 and 2 victory over a very game Swanny in match play. Tying Eddie for 3rd was Link-me who also shot 83 net 67 and continue his good early season play.

After 3 weeks of play XLP has a one point lead over the Skipper and a 3 point lead over 4 others, but its early and the play has not been fantastic yet.

It should be noted that never in the history of the tour has the average gross score been 99 or above over a season. Through 3 weeks of the 2011 campaign the average gross score is a whopping 100.3. Get better boys, and fast!

Good luck to all at the Rack this week,

DiCo
